SUMMARY

Graduated in Graphic Design from Escuela Superior Politécnica del Litoral, I have cultivated extensive experience in various facets of design. My background includes creating interfaces for applications and websites, as well as advertising design and digital illustration. I am known for my commitment to quality and adaptability when working in teams. Additionally, I have actively participated in research projects in FADCOM and MIDI-AM projects, where I have contributed to research focused on graphic design, education, and audiovisual production. These experiences have enriched my knowledge and skills, allowing me to grow both professionally and personally in the field of design.
